Introduction:

Kim Fleming is an American who sailed across the big blue ocean to marry a Brit. During covid she decided to test the flower farming waters in 2020 with a small plot...by the autumn she was hooked. In October 2020 she and her husband plowed just under 2 acres on the family farm and set out to bring more British flowers into the world. In 2023, she added another 2 acres to her field. Kim has subsequently added seeds and plug plant sale to her business, all with the mission to increase British flower sales. Grown Not Flown (and now Sown Not Flown!) have become the clarion call for Marlston Farmgirl. Kim is thrilled to be a part of FFtF and it's broadening mission to afford change in the British Flower Industry.
